The new bridge the borough suthorities have been building at the West end of Coal street is about completed. The workmen are now putting on the finishing touches. The bridge is a splendid structure and one of the best pieces of work accomplished this year. It is 66 feet long, 10 at top and bottem with four-inch oak plank. There will be no danger of that part of the street being washed out by water from the mountain in the future,

The borough authorities have also laid wo good crossings on Gilbert street, two on South Jardin and one on East Lloyd. Borough Supervisor Llewellyn is being complimented for his good work.

Al. G. Field's irrepressible Minstrels howed in Lumison's theatre last night to the largest and most enthusiastic audience of the season. The house was literally packed from pit to dome, and to say that the howling audience thoroughly enjoyed itself for three hours is putting it only too mildly. THE DEMOCRATS DIDN'TRALLY LAST NIGHT. QUITE GOOL AFFAIR ALL AROUND.

If the Democrats are Enthusiastic Over the Prospects of the Approaching Election They Fall to Show It.

The first demonstration the Democrats asve held in town this fall, and the only one they will hold this campaign, was sprung upon the people last night and was anything but a rally. The old-time hustle and bustle was not apparent, there were no cheers, the candidates and visiting speakers slid into town through a stillness that indicated a lack of enthusiasm and the whole the affair was exceedingly luke

Hon, Robert E. Wright, the Democratic andidate for Auditor General, arrived in town early in the evening, accompanied by ex-Judge Harvey, of Lehigh, and took quarters at the Ferguson House. Hon. A. L. Tilden, Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, arrived later, alone, and with but one townsman to escort him to "the house of my friends," as Johnny Nash termed Ferguson's opera house in his ad-

Shortly after 8 o'clock the visitors, headed thirty home and county Democrate, marched from the Ferguson House, down Main street to the theatre. When the visitors entered the theatre it was empty. A few minutes after their arrival about one hundred Democrats and Republicans entered and took seats. Meanwhile the band tried to discourse some cheerful music in front of the theatre. The visitors and their escorts steod between the wings on the stage, evidently depressed by the meagreness of the attendance. Hustlers were sent out and the band continued playing until finally the lower part of the theatre became somewhat filled, but it was portunity to do the ercouraging. a poor house. The band then entered the Letters remaining uncalled for in this theatre and there was more music and the crowd swelled a little more, the arrivals being principally boys, When Harry Muldoon thought the crowd was as large as the band could make it he stepped to the footlights and introduced Hon. Robert Emmet Wright, of Allentown, as the first speaker.

The mention of the speakers name proroked a murmur of applause. The reception was not enthusiastic. It was not cordial. It was applicase such as people give when they feel bound to show respect.

Mr. Wright evidently sized up the reoption and did not feel called upon to refer to it. He opened his address by referring to the grandeur of the scenery and the hum of industry in this section i and told of how he located in Mahanoy hen these parts were a vast wilder ness. His virit last night was the first since that time. After painting "old Schuytkill" in radiant colors to get the audience in secord with him, Mr. Wright turned his show how Senster Quay and other Repubrob the Commonwealth. The address was a lecture on Bardsley and Quay. It was interesting and, in many instances, amusing. He tried to illustrate the method by and charged Quay and the Republican party with being co-conspirators, In one part of his address Mr. Wright said, "That Gregg and Morrison may be pure men I would not question for a moment," but he asserted that they would not if elected, be able to withstand the pressure of the bosses. The speaker then asked how many Republicans there were in the ball and how many would support himself and the farmer from Erie. He wanted to know f they were not ashamed of Quay and the Republican party and appealed to them to oin the Democratic party in the cause of good government.

In concluding his remarks to the Republeans Mr. Wright referred to failure of Gen. Hastings to secure the Republican nomination for Governor and aid, "The Republican party was a great party, and it is now (some hardshell Dem erats on the stage squirmed in their seats but we believe you are wrong in the principles (smiles from the hardshells) yo would apply to the government. And yet we know you are just as honest as we are.' The squirming of the hardshells was here enewed with vigor, but the speaker added But these men (the bosses) have put to the front men who do not represent you arnor unless by consent of the bosses Hastings will be a boss candidate next year because he has now been moulded to suit the wishes of the bosses." Ex-Judge Harvey was the next speaker

His address, like Wright's, was Quay Robbery! Magee i Robbery! Cameron! Robbery! Republican parts! Robbery! "Square Timber" Noyes, he said, was elected State Treasurer by the Democrata but he was a poor, weak old man and could Legal blanks of all kinds for sale at the not withstand the pres are brought to bear by Quay and the other Republicans. Harvey was quite funny at times, fortunately for the audience for his review of the threadbare charges against. Quay, Boyer and McCamant would have seen exceedingly tiresome had he not injected some funny stories. He told a story of a man who had a coon he wished to get. rid of, but was too tender-hearted to kill it. He met three boys of extraordinary inteligence and decided to give the coon to one who would give the most satisfactory anwer. "Why are you a Democrat?" he asked the first boy. The answer was, "because I am in favor of a government of the people, by the people and for the people. The second boy was asked, "Why are you a Greenbacker?" The answer was, "Because our folks have no money and I want the government to make paper money, so we may all have plenty." The third boy was then asked, "Why are you a Republican?" The ready answer was, "Hecause I want the coen "And that is the way with the Republic cans," continued the speaker, "they are Republicans because they want the offices and the speils,

Hon. A. L. Tilden, of Erie, the Demoratic candidate for State Treasurer, was next intr duced. Mr. Tilden was referred to during the evening as the "farmer candidate." As a public speaker he is a genuine hayseeder

John A. Nash, Esq., of Pottsville, made the closing address and caused signs of relief when he announced that he would not speak of Quay, etc. He directed his attention to the Democratic county ticket and said be favored the election of every by the T. But what he said of Judge Green he wanted applied to Candidate Wad inger. He also spoke favorably of Deputy Sheriff Smith and said he had no doubt that gentleman would make an excellent Sheriff. but he also had the same confidence in Woll. After speaking for the rest of the ticket Johnny jumped into a discussion of why a constitutional convention should be held. He floundered: somewhat in making his explanations, but finally succeeded in getting at the end of his rope and Harry Muldoon closed the meeting by urging that the whole Democratic ticket be supported on election day.
